Lap Man, Founder and CEO of the company, said, "We are delighted to be the Official Internet Service Provider offering free 3G and wireless broadband service at the Expo. Through this service, we aim to promote Hong Kong as Asia's information technology hub and to demonstrate the convenience and efficiency we enjoy through the effective use of information and communications technologies. It will enable exhibitors to receive information and the latest news more quickly and conveniently."

Mr. Lap continued, "Information and communication technology is developing at a rapid pace. Electronic and digital products are playing an important role in our lives. Digital living is no doubt a trend. The ICT Expo has become a prominent event in the region following years of development. Last year, the Expo attracted over 580 IT industry representatives and software providers from 20 countries, demonstrating overwhelming support for the unlimited business opportunities to be found at the Expo."

Billy Yeung, Managing Director of Y5ZONE, said, "We are thrilled to cooperate with DYXnet in offering free wireless broadband service to exhibitors at the ICT Expo. Y5ZONE hosts over 2,000 wireless hotspots serving a wide range of users including mobile workers, professionals, students, Soho Groups and travelling businessmen. Our participation in the Expo will offer us the opportunity to extend our wireless network, giving an even greater number of users the opportunity to enjoy our wireless broadband service."

At the Expo, DYXnet will be demonstrating its six industry solutions: retail, logistics, manufacturing, finance, web hosting and online gaming. DYXnet's business partners FlexSystem and Integra-IT will also be presenting network security and cross-boundary email solutions at the booth. Moreover, DYXnet will be partnering with renowned internet security software provider Symantec, sharing the latest solutions for corporate network security at a seminar at the Expo. Details are as follows:

Date: Thursday, 15 April 2010 Time: 14:30 - 16:00
Venue: Hall 3FG, Hong Kong Convention and Exhibition Centre

Mr. Lap expresses special thanks to CSL and Y5ZONE, who will be offering 3G and wireless broadband internet service support to DYXnet at the Expo. In his concluding comments, he said, "The ICT Expo is not just a platform on which service providers unveil business opportunities; it presents SMEs with the latest technological developments, enabling them to explore ever more cost-effective and efficient solutions. This is in line with DYXnet's development direction: to offer SMEs tailor-made solutions that are safe, reliable and reasonably priced."
